THREE-CARD POKER

There are 3 ways to play but 4 ways to win in Three-Card Poker! Play Pair Plus allows you to bet that your hand contains a pair or better. Play Ante means you're playing against the dealer's hand. Play Both means you get to do both. If you make the ante and play wagers, you may win a bonus payout! Just remember, the rules are slightly different in Three-Card Poker. It's the only poker game where a straight beats a flush.

BLACKJACK

This card game is exciting to play and easy to learn. The object is to draw cards that add up to 21 without going over. You start with two cards and can request more during your turn. Face cards are worth 10 points each, and an ace are valued as either 1 or 11. A “Blackjack” hand is an ace paired with any ten-value card. The dealer draws cards, too. If you come closer to 21 than the dealer, you win.

At our tables, you can make a side bet, for a Royal Match. If your first cards are the same suit, you'll win. If they are a king and queen of the same suit, the payoff is 25-to-1.

Ask your dealer about different ways to wager in Blackjack, including splitting pairs, doubling down, or taking “insurance.” These options make the game even more exciting!

ROULETTE

Roulette, the game associated with the plush gambling capitals of Europe, is right at home at the Amelia Belle. A dealer spins the wheel for the winning number. Players use special roulette chips made just for the denominations used in this game. They can bet on color, red or black, a range of numbers, a single number, or whether it will be odd or even. There are so many ways to win at roulette!

CRAPS

Go ahead and roll the dice! Or just watch and bet on it. That's the fun of craps. There are so many ways to win. It starts with a roll that establishes the odds. Players can then bet on how many points will be made before the dice roller "craps out" and rolls a number 7. Players can also bet on rolling a number 7 or 11. Ask your dealer about other ways to win: come bets, don't come bets, place bets, field bets, and proposition bets. The more you play, the more chance you have to win!

MISSISSIPPI STUD

Ante up! In this poker game, you can't lose if you have a pair of sixes or higher. Players are dealt two cards. Three community cards round out the hand. Players are paid based on a chart. Try a hand—this game is easy to learn and fun to play!

ULTIMATE TEXAS HOLD'EM

If you enjoy heads-up play against the dealer and the opportunity to make bonus bets, Ultimate Texas Hold'em is the poker game for you. The game begins with players making equal bets in the Ante and Blind circles. They also can make an additional side bet. Players then get two cards. They have the option of either checking or betting three to four times their ante. When the dealer reveals the three-card flop, players have another chance to bet. Finally, the dealer reveals the two community cards, and players either fold or make a bet that's one time their ante. You win if your hand beats the dealer's, and you win more money depending on your bets and your hand. Note that the dealer must make a minimum hand, or the ante is returned.
